Re: Manufacturer's Certification Statement for IRS Tax Credit.

Englert Inc. is an Energy Star Partner. Englert metal products coated with the following paint colors are specifically and primarily designed to reduce heat gain of a dwelling unit when installed on a dwelling unit and meet or exceed Energy Star program requirements. Thus any metal roofing panel system manufactured using these Englert colors will become an Eligible Building Envelope Component qualified for the credit for non-business energy property under the Section 25C of the Internal Revenue Code:

Englert, Inc. paint colors which meet or exceed Energy Star program requirements:

Bone White	Burgundy	Colonial Red
Deep Red	Charcoal Gray	Dark Bronze
Dove Gray	Stone White	Forest Green
Patina Green	Royal Blue	Hartford Green
Sandstone	Sierra Tan	Mansard Brown
Sea Fog Gray	Matte Black	Slate Gray
Metallic Copper	Medium Bronze	Everglade Moss
Pre-Weathered Galvalume	Hemlock Green	Slate Blue
Champagne	Pacific Blue
Standard Teal

The American Recovery and Reinvestment Tax Act of 2009 extend the residential efficiency credit for 2009, 2010, and Reduced Credit for 2011. A taxpayer may claim this credit with respect to the amounts paid for an Eligible Building Component only if certain criteria are satisfied. Some of the criteria include: the component is installed in or on a dwelling unit located in the United States and at the time of installation, the dwelling unit is owned and used by the taxpayer as the taxpayer's principal place of residence. Please consult your tax professional. There is no credit for the year 2008. The maximum amount of the credit allowable to a taxpayer under Section 25 is $1,500 for 2009 and 2010. In 2011, 2012, 2013, and 2014 a maximum of $500 reduced by any credits received in prior years. This is a summary of the tax credit and it is not intended to be tax advice. We strongly recommend that you consult a tax professional for its applicability to your situation.
